

As we approach the end of the fiscal year, we should be reminded that this is not to be seen as a time to regretfully endure end of year reporting, but more optimistically as a chance for Extension professionals to share indicators of the successes we have accomplished over the past year! Your data remains critical in preparing state documents that provide details of impact to our stakeholders.

This will also be the first full year that we will have data from the strategic initiatives. I want to encourage counties to employ the evaluation tools that have been provided within each program area and for associates and specialists to utilize this aggregated data as a means to assess state level programs. We are highly anticipating the results; that the meaningful evidence from our efforts will invoke the impact Extension continues to have across the state.

In turn, our Program and Staff Development team is looking forward to sharing your collective information through our annual reports, public value statements and a host of other ways we are exploring to promote Extension.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Jones, Director
